Coin Club Presidents (3) Conventions

MIDDLESEX COUNTY — NEWARK CLUB — PATERSON CLUB

THE FIRST MIDDLESEX COUNTY COIN CONVENTION

These three gentlemen have been prominent for the success of the three conventions that were held in New Jersey. They are, left to right; Ken Morrison of Metuchen, N. J., Bill Stern, Perth Amboy, N. J. and Phil Rosenbaum of N.Y.C., N. Y.

The above photo was taken at the recent Middlesex County Coin Convention at the Elk's Hall, Metuchen. This convention, a first for this club in their second year, now boasts over 110 membership. It is hard to realize the time and work put in by the convention committees to make a convention a success. Phil Rosenbaum has been active in several conventions and each proved successful. We at CPM commend the tireless efforts of convention committees throughout the country who have contributed much for the coin collecting hobby voluntarily.

This convention was held in the area of Menlo Park, the site where Thomas Edison worked in his laboratory and made among others, the first filaments for light bulbs.

Auctions were conducted by Norman Pullen of the Central Jersey Coin & Supply Co., Trenton, N. J.

Appendix Congressional Record
Monday, March 20, 1961

Mr. ROBERTSON. Mr. President, we read in the Bible that the love of money is the root of all evil. That statement illustrates a historic fact as fell as a grave human weakness. The historic fact is that more than 2,000 years ago money was used as a medium of exchange throughout the Roman Empire. The human weakness is the fact that even since King Midas struck off gold coins men have loved money, and some have loved it to the extent of losing their souls in its acquisition.

In a sense, the history of money is the history of civilization. Savages did not have money, and even today savage tribes of north Africa have no coinage of their own. The Romans were the first to mint coins with milled edges, which would easily indicate whether or not they had been defaced, because all money prior to that period represented so much in weight of gold, silver, copper, or iron, and ignorant people would be cheated by the moneychangers who would take a small portion of gold or silver from a coin before passing it on. Consequently before the milled coin of the Romans, money was weighed by those who wished to be sure they were getting full value.

Even in our own country money can tell us a lot about the history of a given period. One complaint of the colonists against the mother country was that the mother country would not permit the colonists to coin their own money, so in order to supplement an inadequate supply of British coins, tobacco was used for money in Virginia and beads and wampum in Massachusetts.

Mr. President, on last Saturday, the Smithsonian Institution opened to the public its new Hall of Monetary History and put on public display the most extensive and most historic display of ancient and modern coins and paper money the world has ever known. Not only is this exhibit of the greatest interest to those interested in numismatics, but it should be of interest to every citizen in our country, because whether we love money or not a certain amount of it is a necessity in our modern way of living.

Indeed, if we seek the secluded happiness of the desert, boldly proclaimed by Omar Khayyam, we still must have the money with which to buy the loaf of bread and the jug of wine to be taken with us into our desert retreat.

In order that my Senate colleagues and all who read the Appendix of the Congressional Record may have a better understanding of the numismatic collection now on display at the Smithsonian Institution, I ask unanimous consent to publish in the Appendix of the Record a brief description of the principal displays prepared for me by Dr. Vladimir Clain-Stefanelli, Curator of Numismatics of the Smithsonian Institution.

There being no objection, the description was ordered to be printed in the Record, as follows:

The Smithsonian Institution's new Hall of Monetary History and Medallion Art opened to the public on Saturday, March 18, 1961, in the Arts and Industries Building.

The main display in the new hall is dedicated to monetary history and illustrates in a sequence of 19 specially designed development of the units used in cases the major aspects of the economic systems employing money from the beginning of primitive barter to the establishment of our modern monetary systems. The exhibits have been arranged to show the evolution of money as related to a sequence of significant historical events, and thus as an integral part of the cultural development of human society. The development of the various forms of currencies in Colonial North America is traced and especial emphasis is given to the evolution of U.S. coins and paper money.

This new exhibit illustrating monetary history forms an important step in the Smithsonian's long-range program of exhibition modernization. Displays of coins, tokens, and paper currencies have been arranged in their historical and cultural contexts, rather than by conventional classifications. These exhibits are thus intended to give a new dimension to the visual record of history on display at the Smithsonian.

Several topical displays complete the basic monetary history exhibit. The themes of these displays are: "The Origin of Coin Names," "The Reformation," "Confederate Currencies," and "State Bank Notes." A reconstruction of a coin-stamper designed by the renowned Italian artist and inventor Leonardo da Vinci — 1452-1519 — is also on view. It marks the introduction of mechanization in coining techniques.

"The New World" is the title of a special panel, recalling the first coins struck in the Western Hemisphere, in the Mexico City Mint at the beginning of the reign of Charles and Johanna of Spain — 1536-56. It is followed by a display of the monetary history of North America which starts with "Barter on the Frontier," an illustration of the trade of the primitive Indians and the hardships of the white man on the advancing frontier, when only a few hundred years ago Dentalium and Mercenaria shells wampum, skins of animals and many other articles were used in lieu of money.

"Colonial Money, 1607-1754" is an exhibit showing examples of English, Dutch, and French coins brought by the early settlers, and the first coins struck in Massachusetts in 1652 as well as early paper currency issues.

Other displays show paper bills issued by the States and by the Continental Congress, coins of the States struck after the Declaration of Independence, and the first national currency in relation to the organization of the national banks.

"Economic Adjustments, 1812-60" is the title of an exhibit reflecting a period marked by a series of financial crises and the institution of various banking systems intended to guarantee financial stability. The gold discoveries in Georgia, North Carolina and California resulting in a variety of private gold issues are also featured.

Another is "War and Reconstruction, 1860-73," depicting the different currencies and monetary intermediates, from cardboard money and encased postage stamped to the first U.S. "greenbacks," as well as some of the Confederate issues of this troubled period.

A significant section of the hall is dedicated to the U.S. mint collection. This exhibit is of unusual importance since it represents the oldest collection of coins owned by the Government. In fact, it had its inception in 1792 at the U.S. Mint in Philadelphia. That year and during the rest of his career the chief coiner, Adam Eckfeldt, set aside a specimen of each type and date of coin minted. The mint's collection was increased systematically through purchases made possible by Congress since 1839. This original collection was transferred to the Smithsonian after World War I and is known for the unique or extremely rare pieces it contains. One of its sections is devoted to the pattern or experimental pieces which were made at the mint as early as 1792 and continued until fairly recent years. Many of these designs were never adopted, but they served a useful purpose in helping our coin engravers arrive at designs that would be attractive as well as resistant to wear. The artistic merit of some of these patterns is indeed unusual. Others are notable for their historical import particularly the $50 gold pieces dated 1877, designed by William Barber, and the so-called metric issues of 1879 and 1880.

The hall features also the worlds largest collection of gold coins on public display, given to the Smithsonian by the late Paul A. Straub. It is a "type" collection consisting of 1850 gold coins of Europe and the Americas. Almost 4,000 silver coins of the world complete this series. Remarkable, among others, is the group of oversize multiple talers of the Brunswick duchies issued mainly during the 17th century. A study of the elaborately detailed mining landscapes on some of these coins led to new contributions to the knowledge of early mine-pumping devices.

On view also are outstanding specimens from the Willis H. du Pont donation of Russian coins and medals. It is an authoritative collection paralleled only by that of the Hermitage in Leningrad. The selections are displayed in two cases; one of them illustrates coinages issued between 1700 and 1740 by the Czars Peter the Great, Peter II, and Anna; the other one depicts the life and political aims of Peter the Great as shown on medals.

Another outstanding exhibit is the collection of rare Japanese gold coins presented in 1880 to General Grant, by the Japanese Government, on the occasion when a thoroughbred stallion was given by the general to the Emperor.

The completion of this hall would not have been possible without the assistance of many public and private institutions and organizations as well as most generous gifts from numerous private citizens of the United States. Notable contributors have been: The American Antiquarian Society, Mrs. Frederick C. C. Boyd, Mrs. Catherine E. Bullowa-Moore, Philip H. Chase, Willis H. du Pont, Eric P. Newman Numismatic Education Society, First New Haven Bank, Mrs. Ulysses S. Grant, International Machines Corp., Hon. and Mrs. R. Henry Norweb, Mrs. Wayte L. Raymond, Joseph B. Stack, Morton Stack, Paul A. Straub, U.S. Mint, William H. Vanderbilt, and many others.

The Curator of the Division of Numismatics, Dr. Vladimir Clain-Stefanelli of the Smithsonian, reports that the total number of coins, medals, and paper currencies has nearly doubled since 1957 and amounts today to approximately 120,000 catalogued items, not a few of which are unique.

Dear Mr. Spadone,

In the article concerning Col. R. K. Walker's "College Proof Set Plans" I would like to know how he would be able to sell so many proof sets. Would he sell them in his coin company or sell them to a larger concern? Secondly, I would like to know on which November 1st of what year 1960 or 1961. And how long are you able to buy them from the mint at $2.10?

COLLECTS CURRENCY

I might say a few words about my coins. I collect United States and Canadian coins and currency but I'm more and more starting to specialize in small size currency. One dollar bills now because I'm still in school and most of my money goes to that purpose.

A little more about my ones. I'm trying to get four of each bill. Two with the serial numbers in series and two Star Notes in series. But these are long term plans because of the three rarities. Besides this they are coming along fairly well.

Dear Sir:

I am a new subscriber of your magazine. I am now 10 years of age and I have been coin collecting for almost 3 years. About one and a half years ago I bought a Flying Eagle Cent dated 1857. It was in about fine condition but on the edge of the coin it looked as if somebody had taken a hammer and a chisel and made deep scratches in the coin. I am sure that is definitely no mint error. I looked into it more seriously and I found another odd thing on the coin. I found that on the tip of the wing something very odd. I call it my "Separated Wing Design". The tip of the wing was in two parts.

I am not much of an artist but I think you get my idea. I have never seen another one like this since I found this one. I would like to know if anyone else has one and if possible to find out how many were made.

Mr. Spadone,

Enclosed are four ads to be entered in your next issue.

May I take this opportunity to say thanks for a fine coin collector's magazine. The small date information published by your magazine kept me from missing the boat.

In regards to your rare coin information I have one complete Lincoln cent set and a spare 1914D and 1909S, also a 1926S extra drapery Liberty standing quarter. Your picture of this coin in an earlier issue is responsible for my knowing about this coin. How many were minted and what's the possibility of a mint variety. What's the value?

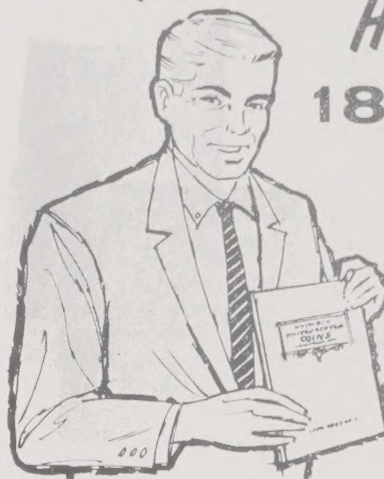

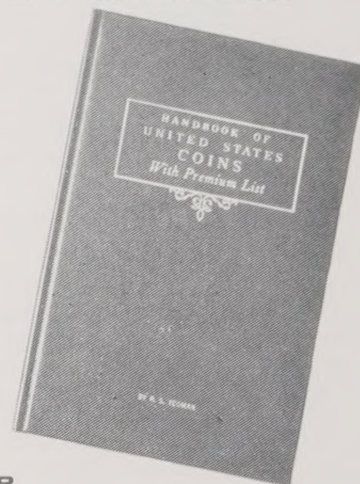

—Lt. Ray H. Ledlitter

RARE COIN SURVEY

Several months ago one of our readers suggested a Rare Coin Survey to find out approximately how many rare coins are actually known and available by the collector and dealers. We mentioned this in a previous issue and asked our readers if they would like such a survey. The response received warranted an attempted effort. The following survey report is the result of the letters sent in. We request our readers and anyone else in numismatics to send your list of rare coins available. Your name and address will be held in the strictest of confidence and later destroyed. This survey is meant only as a guide, its material reference may be beneficial in the art of numismatics. We need your letters, comments and support to help make this survey and future surveys as accurate as possible.

New listings and additions will be made on popular request and as we go along.

Reference to Mint Reports: Actual amounts struck by the mints does not determine the rarity of coins. The quantities of coins reported has no reference to actual numbers in circulation. In some instances almost the whole issue could have been melted down.

DOUBLE SHIFT 1942 DIME

I have been a subscriber of your magazine for almost a year now and I would like to say that I have enjoyed it very much and intend to subscribe again when the present one runs out.

I thought you might be interested in knowing of a coin I have in my collection. It is a 1942 Mercury dime in about very fine to extremely fine condition. The thing that makes it unusual is the fact that the obverse is double-struck in the manner of the 1955 Lincoln cent. This shows up most prominently around the profile and on the word "Liberty". The date also appears double-struck, but it is definitely not an overdate. I would appreciate any information you could supply on this coin.

In regard to your rare coin survey, I have in my possession a 1914-D cent in good, and a 1912 S Liberty Head nickel in good-very good. I consider the 1912-S one of the most under-rated coins in the U.S. series, with only 228 thousand minted, about a fourth that of the 1914-D.

It is a 1959 Lincoln Cent of the Denver mint. The first nine in the date, and the D are doubled.

I am writing you this information, as you usually scoop the other papers, with this information. Keep up the good work, you are doing fine.

BEAUFORT TO STRIKE

"HUGUENOT HALF DOLLAR"

Between now and the spring of 1962, we here in Beaufort, S.C. will be celebrating the 400th anniversary of the first attempt to plant a colony of free men in this country on these shores.

In honor of this celebration we are having a Huguenot half dollar medal struck to be circulated around the world by mail. We have contacted the leading coin magazines in the country and yours being one of the best we would appreciate any publicity you could offer. This 400th anniversary is the second greatest event in North American history and we have even written to officials in France for authentic detail to apply to our medal. The Junior Chamber of Commerce will sell this Huguenot half dollar by mail for $1.00. We have been asked to contact all Numismatic publications and since I am a collector (ANA 39850), I have been put in charge.

If you can be of any help in publicizing this for us we would greatly appreciate it. I will send all publicity and a photograph of the coin. —C. E. Molpus, Jr., Ch.

Canadian Coin Patterns

by Earl A. McBrayer

498 Sunland Drive

Cincinnati 38, Ohio

Readers will notice quite a few changes in the prices of Canadian five cent silver pieces with this issue of COIN PRESS. This series has become very popular both north and south of the border. Recent auction results indicate that investors in both the U.S. and Canada are buying up all key dates and all Canadian coins before 1900. This interest has been particularly keen in coins grading fine or better. The rise in good to very good categories, though less spectacular, has been definite, due to many young collectors purchasing inexpensive albums.

Another factor influencing price changes has been a number of of speculators, watching the flurry of activity in Canadian small and large cents and nickel key dates, have decided five cent silvers could be next. They are buying up quantity as well as the quality coins for the empty corner of their safety deposit boxes.

Some of the established Canadian dealers are finding it quite difficult to replace stock as a result of recent interest in five cent silver. Those firms which issue regular price lists reflect this problem with higher prices in their latest publications.

Several dealers, wanting top dollar and uncertain as to what to charge with prices steadily rising, are entering more five cent silver pieces in regularly advertised auctions. We here at COIN PRESS would enjoy hearing the results from any of our readers who have recently employed this method in local club auctions.

"Loose Coin Talk"

By NICHOLAS SALIMBENE

AT THE NEW YORK CONVENTION . . . They tell me that when you arrive by flight, upon leaving the plane, the captain remarks over the intercom the following, "The safest part of your trip is now over, the dangerous part of your journey now begins, please drive carefully." I thought this was cute, so I pass it on to you . . . The convention was a huge success with all the "Top Brass" passing in review. You name them, they were there . . . Your editor and myself along with Mr. Raoul Rose, proprietor of the "Journal Square Coin Shop", were the guests of Mr. Chet Krause, (publisher of the "Numismatic News"), at an after convention dinner. The three gentlemen did all the talking while I did all the eating . . . occasionally I got in a "BURP" or two. Why is it that when you go out with a group of people and you have all made your order, when the food arrives, the other person's order always looks more appetizing than your own? ? You know what I mean? ?

ALL IN FUN DEPARTMENT . . . The home of "Coin Press", East Orange, New Jersey, was voted the cleanest city in the entire U.S.A. for the second year in a row . . . This I never had doubts of, if they put you in jail for not returning a library book, WHAT WOULD THEY DO TO YOU IF THEY CAUGHT YOU THROWING A PIECE OF PAPER IN THE STREET? ? ? EH? REMEMBER, I said all in fun.

TO ALL OF YOU COLLECTORS WHO SAVE VATICAN CITY COINS . . . Did you know that the Vatican City is the smallest COUNTRY in the world? ? Well, believe it or not, it is. It takes only fifteen minutes to cross it! It has been an independent country since 1929, with its own police force, postage stamps, and money. Its tiny railroad, shortest in the world, serves the entire population of less than one thousand people. Its complete run is only six-tenths of a mile, this is a long run considering that the whole country is only sixteen-hundredths of a square mile . . . Ask your friends if they know the smallest country in the world, then listen to their answers, then be ready for an argument when you give them the answer . . . then bet them a 1914-D cent, then add it to your collection when you win . . . By the way, can you name me the richest country in the world? ? ? (I have to get this in) . . . Well the answer is IRELAND, because its capital is always Dublin' (Dublin) . . . ouch!

Your editor's 1943 copper cent is the second one which I have had the thrill to hold in my hands and examine. The first one was in the possession of Mr. Walter Breen. We commented on the cent of Mr. Breen's over station WABC in New York where the three of us were present.

Everyone seems to be passing judgement on Mr. Fred Johnson and his pending lawsuit against his local bank. I would like to add my comment as follows; I don't give Mr. Johnson an outside chance of winning and I think it has been an ill-fated venture from the start. However, I do give this man a lot of credit in fighting for something which he believes in and this is something which an awful lot of people lack . . . Lot's of luck Mr. Johnson.

An author was writing a book about prison life, deciding to get some first hand knowledge, he visited a local penitentiary and asked the warden if he could speak direct with one of his inmates. The warden in turn, had the author placed in a cell with a prisoner. After a two hour session of questions and answers, the author, trying to describe to the prisoner the hardships of putting together a book of this nature, said, "For an example, see this one paragraph? Well it has taken me four months to complete". The prisoner slowly turned and answered, "Don't feel bad, look at me, it's taking me all my life to finish just one sentence" . . .

CAN YOU TOP THIS? On a Monday, not too long ago, I received the following mail, the "COIN PRESS," "NUMISMATIC NEWS", "COIN WORLD", "NUMISMATIC TIMES & TRENDS", "THE NUMISMATIST", "BOWERS REVIEW", "COTY CLUB BULLETIN OF CANADA" AND TWO AUCTION CATALOGS. To tell you the truth, I did not know where to start . . . Of course I did read the "COIN PRESS" first . . . (NATURALLY) . . . If you can top this, then by all means, please let me know . . .

QUICKIES FROM HERE AND THERE . . . The last meeting of the Garfield Coin Club was very, very disappointing in more ways than one . . . I liked Mr. Chet Krause's editorial, "TO EACH ITS OWN", it hit the spot . . . Don't let the "DOUBLE D'S" slip by, they are a very "up and coming" coin. If you get any, hold on to them . . . Here is a good hint, they have only been found so far in the medium dates . . . The small dates seem to be slipping back down again . . . with the small date proofs holding their own and increasing ever so slightly.

Once again I invite you to send me in anything that you think would be interesting to the hobby as a whole, such as jokes, puzzles, coin finds, anecdotes from club meetings, home life or what have you . . . send them to me, Nicholas Salimbene, 67 Congress St., Newark 5, New Jersey . . . Come on, send them in. . .

HOLLAND COIN CLUB PRESENTS GIFT

Mrs. Hazel Hayes, Librarian Receives Coin Books

A gift of four books on coin collecting was presented to the Herrick Public Library on April 21 by the Holland (Mich.) Coin Club.

Hector Munro, president of the club, made the presentation to Mrs. Hazel Hayes, librarian. Others taking part were P. H. "Jim" Frans, immediate past president, and Daniel Vander Werf, Jr., secretary-treasurer of the club.

Donation of the books was made as Holland celebrated the first anniversary of the new Herrick Public Library and also called attention to National Coin Week April 23-30. Last year the club gave two books to the library.

Frans, who is well-known among Michigan coin collectors, also gave a talk at the library on coin collecting as a hobby.

A special exhibit of Civil War currency was displayed by Vander Werf at the library during National Coin Week.

The Holland Coin Club is two years old and has a membership of over a hundred adults and children. Meetings are held on the fourth Thursday of each month at the Warm Friend Hotel.

Other club officers besides Munro and Vander Werf are Robert Baker, vice president, and Russell Dyke, assistant secretary-treasurer. On the Board of Governors, in addition to the officers, are Dr. C. L. Loew, Robert Taft, Charles Murrell and Frans.

"MY TWO CENTS"

By R. A. RADICE

190 N. Munn Ave., East Orange, N. J.

Not too long ago started to wonder about the gold that backs up our money. I asked myself, "What would happen to our money if in the future synthetic gold could be made cheaply?" As you can imagine this would mean complete disaster for our monetary system and our country not to mention the rest of the world. Today synthetic gold can and is being made, but the costs are too great to allow anyone to make a profit from it. It is, however, quite conceivable that in the near future the cost to produce a pound of synthetic gold will probably be far less than it now costs to mine an equal amount.

Those on the defensive might say, "But we can always adapt our monetary system to another precious mineral." I would agree with this statement, but this is not the problem. The problem is that we must base our money on a substance that cannot be synthesized now or in the future. What can this substance be; where can we find it? Will it be like the Fountain of Youth which was never found?

This problem had fascinated me so much that I decided to look deeper into it. I found out that this problem has been brought to mind by some of our foremost depth thinkers. These are the people who are either employed by others (countries, industries, etc.) to think up possible problems of the future and possible solutions to them, or are people who just have enough imagination to look into the future.

Some of the suggestions brought up by these depth thinkers to solve this problem I shall discuss briefly. One suggested a mineral such as uranium of which we have a slight stock, but which would be hard to synthesize. This argument as been thrown out immediately, because with the rapid advances of science it would not be too long in the future before even this mineral would be synthesized. Another suggested water as a possible solution. This also was soon thrown out because like many other substances this can be synthesized and is being synthesized today, although as a slightly more than economical cost. Most of the other suggestions were along this line, and it looked as if there was no real solution that would stand up.

I was about to give up thinking of this problem when a friend of mine said that he had read someplace where this problem was discussed and it was suggested that land be the substance on which we could base our money. Unfortunately he could not remember who had made this statement and all my attempts to find out have proved futile.

Let's look into this solution. First of all can land be made? A little thought into this and it will be seen that it is quite impossible to synthesize land. Second, each country has its own supply of land on which it can base its money. Whereas today many countries have to import gold to keep their monetary system on a sound basis. I could run down the line with reasons why this solution would be the best, however, due to the brevity of this column I can only bring out the most important parts of this argument.

If any readers would like me to continue with the discussion of the above problem I would only be to pleased to do so. If there are any questions in your mind about what I have written please write, I would be pleased to answer your letter and if your questions bring out an important point that you think should be mentioned I would try my best to have your name mentioned in this column. One more thing before I end this column. If any of you has in the past come across the name of the person who has recommended that land be used as a basis for our money I would greatly appreciate it if you drop me a line or two as to who he is and where he made the statement.

45S MICRO. DIME

I enjoy your Coin Press magazine very much and the different articles people talk about. But I do not understand what the difference in a Liberty Dime and a Micro-S 1945 dime. What is the difference? Can you explain it in your next issue.

—H. M. Wink

Editor's Note: The difference is the size of the mint mark "S". It is smaller than normal and given the title name microscopic "S".

Enclosed is a check for subscription to "Coin Press" magazine. I have been buying it at the newstand and find it very good. I started collecting coins last fall and have had the good fortune to find a 1942 over 41 dime in very fine condition in a roll of dimes which I had obtained from a bank. Thought you would be interested.

What Can We Expect In The Future?

By W. G. Latta

A Canadian national census will be made June 1, 1961. It is estimated the population on that date will be 18,200,000. This is an increase of better than 4,200,000 since 1951. Canada will have added 600,000 more people in the past ten years than in the preceding 20.

When considering an increase of over 30% in the past 10 years compared to 34% in the preceding 20 years—what will the population be in 1971?

It is my opinion that those interested in Canadian Coin sets are increasing at an even greater rate than the population. Also consider the U.S.A. with over 50,000 collectors interested in collecting our Canadian coins. Only one in several thousand collectors can own a 1948 Canadian silver dollar as there were only 18,780 minted.

1960 PRODUCTION OF CANADIAN COINS REACHES NEW HIGH—So has the demand for Canadian coins as collectors items.—So too has the population reached a new high with the need of increasing amounts of coins to keep pace with the expanding economy. Main increase was in the 25¢, 10¢ and 5¢ denominations.

1960 ROYAL MINT SET PRODUCTION DOUBLES: In 1959 the figure was only 31,577 — 64,097 sets were released for the year 1960 according to the mint report. This appears to be a large increase, still in my opinion it is very low compared to the potential demand.

ROYAL CANADIAN MINT Coinage Production in 1959 and 1960
CANADA -	Denomination	1959	1960
Silver, 800 fine—
	Pieces	Pieces	Pieces
	1 dollar	1,443,502	1,420,486
	50 cents	3,095,535	3,488,897
	25 cents	13,503,461	22,835,327

	1 cent	83,615,343	75,772,775
Total		132,901,797	186,121,753

To produce the 186,121,753 coins in 1960 almost 3000 different dies were used. The average production per pair of dies was 126,506. (It is our opinion that there are bound to be slight varieties occur as the die becomes worn, cracked or replaced with a new one).

BLACK NICKELS

I'm sending my order for next year's subscription and I've had many hours enjoyment reading your magazine and found many of the coins mentioned.

I have 3 unc. 1959 nickels that are a nice black and shiny color. I wonder if they are any more that someone else might have found. I have a 1960 Lincoln cent with a blocked 6 and skirted R and also a 1960 nickel with Double Liberty and 1960. Thank you.

PENNIES DON'T MAKE CENTS

In perusing an old copy of your publication dated Jan. 1, 1956, when it was known as the "Flying Eaglet," I noted with interest an article headed "A Penny for Your Thoughts." I, too, advocate the abolition of the term "penny" with reference to our "cent," at least in the field of numismatics. Though its use is prevalent, it is erroneous. In a decimal system such as ours the one hundredth part of a dollar is a CENT, not a PENNY. An inquiry directed to Mrs. Beister, Superintendent of the Mint at Philadelphia, will corroborate my contention and that of the writer of the article, Howard G. Glickert. Mrs. Beister, in answer to a letter I sent to her a few years ago, stated that the guards who conduct tours through the mint are instructed to refer to our present smallest denomination of coinage as a CENT, not a PENNY.

Fractional parts of our dollar, at least to my knowledge, were never referred to in the past as HALF PENNIES, TWO PENNY pieces, THREE PENNY pieces or TWENTY PENNY pieces so it is obviously inconsistent with correct numismatic nomenclature.

Last year, one of my displays, exhibited for members of my coin club, "The Cincinnati Numismatic Association", consisted of the coins mentioned above with a statement that since the first coins were struck in 1793 the word "penny" has never appeared on one of them.

In my insistence that the true student of numismatology should use correct terminology. I do not stand alone any more in this instance but it is necessary to constantly remind my fellow members who seem to find so much difficulty in breaking an old habit.

Your magazine has been most helpful in helping me keep abreast of the newest developments in this chosen hobby of mine

Dear Editor:

Excuse the pencil since I am in the hospital and no pen was available. I just wanted you to know I'm enjoying your magazine while laying in bed with a twisted back, at least reading some of the ads and stories takes my mind off the pain.

I'm a regular subscriber to "Coin Press" and I just had to write and let you know the value of reading your magazine in here. I found some 1960D double profile and double date nickels here with the D also doubled and some of wording on back doubled. Did anybody else find any?

I got 3 of them in change in the hospital restaurant money. I am enclosing 4 ads for your next issue.

SECRETARY DILLON THANKS PHILIPPINE AMBASSADOR FOR FINAL LOAN PAYMENT

In a brief ceremony at the Treasury Department this afternoon, Secretary Douglas Dillon presented a letter of appreciation to Philippine Ambassador Romulo expressing the thanks of the United States Government for a final loan payment of $20,000,000, received on April 10, 1961, from the Republic of the Philippines. This was the final payment on a loan agreement of November 6, 1950.

DASH OVER O

Dear Editor,

In your past edition, April 29, 1961, I noticed someone's article stating the same findings as I have. This is in regard to an article written by Edward H. Black which states that he found two 1960 nickels with dashes on the top of the O's. I found one the same from Philadelphia mint. Although I noticed this several months ago I thought it was just a coincidence. I didn't realize there was a certain quantity or that it was a common error.

1955 DOUBLE SHIFT TO MOVE OVER FOR 1960 DOUBLE "D"?

For the past several months now I have been purchasing your magazine at the news stand, and frankly their delivery is too slow and I always run the risk of not being able to obtain one of the copies. Being just a slight bit greedy about your magazine and coin collecting in general, I decided to send in my subscription, set back relax and let the others run to the news stand.

I have been a collector for several years, but had become a little uninterested until I purchased a copy of "Coin Press". I believe in giving praise where praise is due. "Coin Press" is the best in the field, keep them coming.

During the first of March I was in the process of trying to get a 1960-DD photographed to send to you when Mr. Corrigan of Louisville, Kentucky beat me to the punch. This proves one thing, that you have to be fast to beat the readers of "Coin Press" in getting information to the numismatic field. I agree with your prediction on the future of this coin and believe the 1955 double shift will have to move over to make room for this newcomer.

DASH 1832 HALF— SMALL 7 DIME

On Page 15 of the April 29, 1961 issue of the Coin Press magazine is pictured the dash 1832 Half Dollar. The picture in my magazine plainly shows the cause of the dash. The figure 1 was cut in the die, then filled and recut farther to the right which is the figure 1 now showing. The bottom filling, the size of the dash, of the first figure 1 fell out of the die causing the dash.

On Page 7 of the same issue is the Roosevelt Dime with the tail of the 7 shortened and slanting far to the left, sent in by F. Crews of Indiana. I also have one of these dimes and under a lighted magnifying glass it looks as if the die may have broken, was filled and then re-engraved farther to the left with a shorter tail and still using the top of the original seven. This would cause the tail of the 7 to slant.

CANADIAN "COTY" CLUB

Box 68
Punnichy, Sask., Canada

April 23rd to 30th has been designated as National Coin Week of 1961. Directed by a National Committee headed by Dolly-Maude Harris of Austin, this special occasion is again to be observed throughout the United States by the American Numismatic Association and its affiliated clubs.

As a local contribution towards this end. The Waco Coin Club will arrange and show an assortment of coins, paper money and other items of numismatic interest at the First National, the National City, and the Citizens National Bank of Waco.

This year's affair springs from big plannings and can be the average numismatist's dream of pushing his hobby to the front. The 1961 theme, "Coins and Currency of Yesteryears," provides greater scope and should encourage more participants than any previous year — answering the question of what to exhibit.

NEW WHITMAN EDITIONS

This latest printing of CONFEDERATE STATES PAPER MONEY is currently available through your WHITMAN distributor. The new edition is completely revised and has been increased in size from 48 pages to 64 pages.

Many new pictures of Confederate paper money have been included in this edition. All of the prices have been revised and brought up to date to reflect the new interest in this field. A new section has been added to the book giving detailed information about the counterfeit, facsimile and bogus notes in this series.

This edition, like former editions, lists, illustrates and prices all of the Confederate notes by types. Detailed information is given about paper, various printing plates and methods, plate letters and varieties. General background information is given on all series.

A second edition of PATRIOTIC CIVIL WAR TOKENS by George and Melvin Fuld has also been printed and is now ready for distribution. This edition is very similar to the first edition but has been brought up to date by including all of the new varieties that have been discovered since the book was first published last year. New information and corrections have been incorporated into this printing to make it as up to date as possible.

NOTICE

THE 15th EDITION RED GUIDE BOOKS WILL NOT BE AVAILABLE UNTIL THE FIRST WEEK IN JULY.

You Name It!

John Rile of 121 Liberty Street, Dover, N. J. found the above cent. He would like to know if anyone else has or has heard of a similar one.

Dear Editor:

We recently started selling coin and stamp supplies and at the same time my interest in coins has been aroused.

The day after your announcement on the 1960 Double D, I found two of them. My curiosity, in reading letters to you about coins, was aroused when I found what I think are the coins mentioned. I found many of the filled 9's and 6's, twisted D on 1958 and 1944 pennies, I have also found the 1950 (D-) penny, a 1944 penny with a patch on cheek, and a penny that has date like this 19-4/, a 1953 (double ?) that has a shadow behind the 3, and also a 1955 with a shadow behind the last 5, and what appears to be a 1960 D with the D struck Double up and down. I also have a 1955 D penny that has the first five either filled or struck twice and slightly twisted. I would like to know more about any of these pennies if possible and wonder if any of your readers have found the same.

We Present
THE OFFICIAL MEDAL
CIVIL WAR CENTENNIAL
1861 — 1961

The Coin and Currency Institute, Inc., of New York and California has been appointed sole national distributor of this medal, which commemorates officially the centennial of the Civil War.

It will be available in both bronze and silver about May 31, 1961.

The medal which is 2½" in size, is being issued under authority of the Civil War Centennial Commission, which was created by Act of Congress. The medal will be struck by the Medallic Art Company from designs and sculptor's models that have been approved by the U.S. Government Fine Arts Commission in Washington, D.C.

As can be seen from the above illustration, the obverse bears the portraits of General Ulysses S. Grant and General Robert E. Lee. The reverse shows the seal of the Civil War Centennial Commission, having as its main theme, a Union and Confederate soldier. The medal will be sold in its own specially made container and will come with a printed, informative leaflet.

In addition to the bronze medal, there will be an issue of pure silver medals, which will be limited to 25,000 serially numbered pieces. The purity of the silver will be greater than .999.

The official prices of the Civil War Centennial Medal are as follows:

The Bronze medal	$ 4.00
The pure silver medal	30.00

(Please note: Because of the limited issue the silver medals are offered subject to being sold out. Those wishing a silver medal should place their order now. Earlier this year many thousands were disappointed when their orders for silver Inaugural medals were placed too late. Because of the overwhelming national interest in the Civil War, it is expected that the silver medals will be quickly sold out.)

The bronze and silver medals will be available about May 31, 1961 at your local coin and stamp dealer, department store coin counters, hobby shops etc., or you may write to either our New York or California office. Established dealers wishing to carry this medal for resale should write to us at once for our terms.
